

Glad to be blue in the Garden State

TOM GRALISH / Staff Photographer

Jane Mitrovic of Hammonton, N.J., packs her bag with pints of blueberries at the Route 206 Farm Market north of Hammonton. Yesterday was the first day the berries were available at the stand. "It's only a four-week window," Mitrovic said. On June 28, the township celebrates the harvest with the 23d annual Red, White and Blueberry Festival at Hammonton High School.